

Brooks is building a larger-than-life statue made of race medals from runners across the nation. It will forever live at their new Seattle HQ and they would love to include yours. Why? Because they love runners. They love them so much that they want to build a shrine. They're also doing it because it will look very, very sweet.

Submit your medal so it can run forever.

Your NAME? _____

What run did you get this medal for? _____

What year was it won? _____

Does your medal have a cool backstory? Do tell.
