Guests tell me that Family House is full of people who create a special sense of family. Volunteers and donors create this caring environment, and the generosity highlighted on the following pages makes a difference in many lives. In the past year, we have committed to share this generosity with more families by expanding the House. Our 40 rooms are in constant use, 365 days a year. We have exciting plans to grow, and as we look back on this past year, we are more convinced than ever that the time is now. We will need your help in the year to come!

OUR GUESTS

Amy Burriss came to Family House after a double lung transplant at UNC Hospitals. She described the peace of mind she felt during her months at the hospital, knowing her husband and son were sleeping at Family House instead of in their van. During her three-month stay at the House, she and other guests motivated and encouraged each other, prayed for each other and became life-long friends.

THANKS FOR A GREAT YEAR!

The 2016 Carolina Ball raised over $220,00 in net proceeds, enough to fund 7 rooms for a year – and much of our operating budget. Guests are grateful for the community's support.

The Volunteer Breakfast in April honored contributions of our 114 regular volunteers and all nominees for Volunteer of the Year. Congratulations to Carol Callahan and Marsha Roslanowick, the Family House Volunteers of the Year! This dynamic front desk duo has been smiling on the job since the house opened in 2008.

Fun for All Weekend in April had a great turnout over three days of events. We netted $95,000 at the Pig Pickin and golf tournament to support a month's worth of rooms. On the service day, volunteers of all ages learned about our mission – and cleaned, weeded and helped with chores!

Our new community garden in memory of the late Zeny Datiles is in conjunction with dietitians from the UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Support Program. The bountiful harvest of herbs and vegetables is used by guests and meal teams.

Volunteer meal providers nourish the heart, soul and stomach with offerings ranging from freshly baked bread to snacks to meals.

The 2017 Triangle Business Journal Corporate Philanthropy Award honored us for the volunteerism, board support and corporate partnerships that guide and support our organization.

Nash County friends honored the memory of Teresa Dianne Braswell with a fundraiser at the Castalia Volunteer Fire Department. Mrs. Braswell's family said the fundraiser was something their mother would have done, and we are honored.

Members of the Racquettes meal team helped us with a how-to video about preparing a meal at Family House. We love that our volunteers are always helping each other!

OUR DONORS

Linda and Cliff Butler make a difference in the lives of thousands of Family House guests through their philanthropy and volunteerism. Linda currently serves on our Board of Directors, and both are always looking for ways to introduce our mission to others. These childhood friends, retired from careers as pharmacists, continue to contribute to the health of our community. Linda's meal team, the Gourmet Girls, has delighted guests for many years with delicious dinners.

"The generosity at Family House starts with the guests, who share their stories and help each other through difficult times. We are proud to help guests feel safe, comfortable and loved."

Linda and Cliff Butler

OUR VOLUNTEERS

Volunteers are the heart of our home, and vital to our operations. Laundry teams, such as the weekly Thursday group pictured here, fold freshly laundered linens several times a week. Other volunteers work at the front desk, provide meals and entertainment, keep the kitchen clean and organized, and more. Please join us — see secufamilyhouse.org/get-involved for information.

SHARE THE HOUSE

give hope a home

CAMPAIGN FOR EXPANSION

At our safe, affordable home, patients and families who travel great distances for health care share normalcy in the midst of upheaval, and reassurance amid uncertainty.

As UNC Hospitals and its system of care throughout the state continue to grow, Family House is a critical link in alleviating barriers to accessing the highest-quality health care. Our 40 rooms are in constant use, and we turn away two of every three guests who are referred by a patient's medical care team.

Our expansion nearly doubles the size of Family House to 75 rooms. We are adding more space and a larger support network, and impacting the health of more patients and families in North Carolina and beyond.

Fundraising is underway, and in parallel, approvals from the University of North Carolina and the Town of Chapel Hill. We plan to break ground in 2018.

Campaign co-chairs Bob and Becky Woodruff and Maureen O'Connor invite you help give hope a home for more families. See our website for more information.
