PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE Rebecca Bullock, MT(ASCP)SBB

Why NCABB....Why Now?

Active NCABB members have no problem answering the above questions. On the evaluation forms we receive following Spring Workshops and Annual Fall Meetings, attendees tell us the presentations are excellent and their attendance invaluable.

If you ask long-term NCABB members, they will tell you the organization is more than a source of continuing education. NCABB also provides networking opportunities and resources for those times they have questions, and need to talk to someone who knows the language of blood banking. Members form long term friendships with other blood bankers in the state, and have the chance to interact with some of the most accomplished speakers in our field.

On a recent NCABB survey, in response to a question concerning the future of continuing education, we were told, "I think that more continuing education is moving to digital media, with a self-paced, individualized focus. I do appreciate conferences though, for the networking opportunities and the ability to interact with peers across many health systems; it is wonderful to share ideas and best practices." As a long-term NCABB member myself, I know that I often call on peers and colleagues I've met through NCABB. The world of medicine is held to high standards; knowing best practices is vital.

This is not to say that on-line Continuing Education is not important or valuable. Funding is tight and many on-line programs are free or very inexpensive. On-line CEs from reputable organizations are great ways to stay current. But when you face a real challenge, an on-line CE program cannot give you advice, share how it resolved a similar situation, or rescue you from a confounding problem. We all need friends and professional friends can be lifesavers.

The founders of NCABB knew the value of professional association. They chose the name North Carolina Association of Blood Bankers rather than Blood Banks, because they knew the value of people-to-people interaction. NCABB has a lot to offer. Now would be a great time to join.

JANUARY 2016 VOLUME 50 NUMBER 27 Highlights of the 43rd Fall Meeting

The 43rd annual NCABB Fall Meeting was held September 21-22, 2015 at the Carolina Inn in Chapel Hill, NC. The meeting opened with an inspiring keynote address from Coach Sylvia Hatchell and ended with a moving account of a patient experience. Both served as reminders of the important role blood bankers and transfusion therapy play in caring for patients. Attendees enjoyed two days of distinguished speakers presenting on a variety subject matters. Topics included: managing generational differences in the clinical laboratory workforce, pediatric and neonatal transfusion protocols, normalizing deviance within the laboratory, explaining the qualifications of installing equipment, cellular and platelet therapies, transfusion-associated circulatory overload, and technical problems in blood bank testing. Again this year, the presentations were videotaped and they are available for purchase as a DVD set. If you are interested, please visit the NCABB website for more information.

Exhibitors from the following companies also attended and/or sponsored the Fall Meeting: American Red Cross, Ashland, Inc., Bio-Rad, Community Blood Center of the Carolinas, Duke Medical Laboratories, Fenwal, Haemonetics, HemoBioscience, Immucor, Kedrion Biopharma, Kol, Laboratory Corporation of America, Ortho Clinical Diagnostics, Quotient, and UNC McLendon Clinical Laboratories. NCABB recognizes the tremendous role all the exhibitors and sponsors play in our ability to host the annual meeting. Our gratitude is extended to them for their continued support.

The NCABB Board would like to thank Lindsay Suber for photographing the NCABB events. He expertly captures the spirit of meetings and events.

Thank you to Ronda Gooch for working with the Carolina Inn on the arrangements again this year. Her expertise in planning is invaluable! NCABB is ASCLS P.A.C.E. ®approved! The board was very excited to offer P.A.C.E. [®] approved CE credits for the Fall Meeting, as this was requested by the NCABB members and meeting attendees. The board reviews meeting evaluations carefully and makes every effort to incorporate attendees' helpful suggestions to improve the meetings each year. While the Fall Meeting is a great way to obtain continuing education credits, it also serves as an excellent opportunity to network and exchange ideas with colleagues from across the region. We hope you will plan to attend the 2016 meeting in Wilmington and discover what NCABB has to offer.

Join us for the 2016 Fall Meeting in Wilmington, NC September 18th – 20th

Petteway-Shepherd Recipient, Paul Ness, MD

During the fall meeting, NCABB takes the opportunity to honor individuals who have contributed to transfusion medicine as well as the NCABB organization. The Petteway-Shepherd Award recognizes an individual who has made significant contributions to the field of transfusion medicine, and whose prominence is well established nationally. This is certainly true for the 2015 recipient, Paul Ness, MD. Dr. Ness is director of the Transfusion Medicine Division at The Johns Hopkins Hospital and professor of Pathology, Medicine, and Oncology at The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine. He has been a member of the AABB Board of Directors for many years and became President in 1999. He served on the editorial boards of Transfusion and AABB Press and became editor of Transfusion in July, 2003. He has written over 200 articles for medical journals and has reviewed manuscripts for many journals. He is a co-editor of two comprehensive texts in transfusion medicine, The Scientific Basis of Transfusion Medicine and Blood Banking and Transfusion Medicine, Basic Principles and Practice. Dr. Ness also has extensive experience in transfusion related research with emphasis upon transfusion related complications. His presentation was entitled, "Continuing Controversies in Platelet Transfusion Therapy."

The Frances K. Widmann Service Award honors those members who have given generously of their time and energy in support of NCABB. This year we honored a very dedicated and hard-working member, Caroline Immel. Caroline stepped into the President Elect role after serving on the board for only 1 year. She served as NCABB President in 2014. During her time as President she initiated the change to enhance the NCABB website, which among many things, allowed for on-line membership renewal and meeting registration. Caroline has helped with the Spring Workshop program and arrangements for 2 years and she also arranged the surprise keynote speaker, Sylvia Hatchell, at the 2015 Fall Meeting. Thank you to Caroline for her dedication and leadership.

Frances K. Widmann Service Award Recipient, Caroline Immel with past-president, Tara Moon.

Elizabeth "Kizzy" Moore Gabriel Memorial Scholarship Recipient, Rebecca Cerajewski.
