NORTH CAROLINA COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

Cary Women's Giving Network accepting grant applications

For immediate release – 2/27/18

The members of the Cary Women's Giving Network are currently accepting grant applications for projects, according to Sheila Ogle, leadership president.

Funds are available for nonprofit organizations that serve the charitable needs of women and children in Cary. Applications are available online beginning March 2. Visit nccommunityfoundation.org for information about applying. The deadline for submitting applications is noon April 3.

The Cary Women's Giving Network was founded in 2011 by a group of local women who organized to support local needs in Cary through a giving circle. The Network supports a competitive grants program under the direction of its full membership and is a program of the North Carolina Community Foundation. ### About the North Carolina Community Foundation

The NCCF is the single statewide community foundation serving North Carolina and has administered more than $130 million in grants since its inception in 1988. With nearly $247 million in assets, NCCF sustains 1,200 endowments established to provide long-term support of a broad range of community needs, nonprofit organizations, institutions and scholarships. The NCCF partners with a network of affiliate foundations to provide local resource allocation and community assistance across the state. An important component of NCCF's mission is to ensure that rural philanthropy has a voice at local, regional and national levels.
