Craven County Community Foundation accepting grant applications

For immediate release – 3/5/18

The board of advisors of the Craven County Community Foundation is currently accepting grant applications for projects funded from its community grantmaking fund, according to Tyler Harris, board president.

Funds are available for nonprofit organizations that serve general charitable needs in Craven County. Applications are available online beginning March 9. Visit nccommunityfoundation.org for information about applying. The deadline for submitting applications is noon April 10.

About the Craven County Community Foundation

The Craven County Community Foundation was founded in 1991 and is an affiliate foundation of the North Carolina Community Foundation. CCCF is led by a local volunteer advisory board that helps build community assets through the creation of permanent endowments, makes grants and leverages leadership – all for the benefit of Craven County. In addition to Harris, board members include: Jonathan Segal (vice-president), Peter Moeller (secretary), Lee Knot (treasurer), Alice Tolson (immediate past president), James Briley, Maria Cho, James Congleton, Martha Cook, James Davis, Dorothy Dove, Marc Finlayson, John Haroldson, John King, John Kirkland, Ken McCotter, Chuck Meekins, Gregory Peacock, Dan Pritchett, Dan Roberts, Tony Salem, Linda Staunch, Brian Taylor, Scott Thomas, Susan Ward and Rex Willis.

Tax-deductible contributions, made payable to the Craven County Community Foundation, can be mailed to the North Carolina Community Foundation, 3737 Glenwood Ave. Suite 460, Raleigh, NC 27612. Contributions can also be made online at nccommunityfoundation.org.

About the North Carolina Community Foundation

The NCCF is the single statewide community foundation serving North Carolina and has administered more than $130 million in grants since its inception in 1988. With nearly $247 million in assets, NCCF sustains 1,200 endowments established to provide long-term support of a broad range of community needs, nonprofit organizations, institutions and scholarships. The NCCF partners with a network of affiliate foundations to provide local resource allocation and community assistance across the state. An important component of NCCF's mission is to ensure that rural philanthropy has a voice at local, regional and national levels.
