Martin County Community Foundation announces new advisory board president

For immediate release -- 1/17/17

The Martin County Community Foundation has named Lucia Peel the new president of the advisory board.

Peel is the owner and operator of Haughton Hall B&B. She serves or has served on numerous committees and boards for organizations including the Martin County Tourism Development Authority, Woman's Club of Williamston and Friends of the Martin Memorial Library. She holds a J.D. from Wake Forest University School of Law and a bachelor's degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

"I am looking forward to working even more closely with our board and the leadership of the NC Community Foundation to grow our assets and increase our impact on viable nonprofits throughout Martin County," Peel said.

The Martin County Community Foundation was established to help donors create and build endowments to meet their philanthropic goals, make grants to local nonprofit organizations and support community needs in Martin County. The MCCF is an affiliate of the North Carolina Community Foundation. In addition to Peel, current board members include: Susan Dunlow (secretary), Mary Katherine Saunders (treasurer), Harlan Frye, Simon Griffin, Greg Shepherd and Nancy Winslow.

About the North Carolina Community Foundation

The NCCF is the single statewide community foundation serving North Carolina and has made $116 million in grants since its inception in 1988. With more than $222 million in assets, NCCF sustains 1,200 endowments established to provide long-term support of a broad range of community needs, nonprofit organizations, institutions and scholarships. The NCCF partners with a network of affiliate foundations to provide local resource allocation and community assistance across the state. An important component of NCCF's mission is to ensure that rural philanthropy has a voice at local, regional and national levels.
