Moore County Community Foundation accepting grant applications

For immediate release -- 4/4/17

The board of advisors of the Moore County Community Foundation is currently accepting grant applications for projects funded from its community grantmaking fund, according to Betsy Best, board president.

Funds are available for nonprofit organizations that serve general charitable needs in Moore County. Applications are available online beginning April 7. Visit nccommunityfoundation.org for information about applying. The deadline for submitting applications is noon May 9.

The Moore County Community Foundation is an affiliate of the North Carolina Community Foundation. The community grantmaking fund was established to support local charitable needs through annual grants. In addition to Best, board members include: Peggy Richardson Sarvis (vice president), Claudia Miller (secretary), Ellen Ains, Hugh Bingham, Farrell Bushing, Kea Capel, Brantley Clifton, Stephen Later, Kelly McCrann, Daniel Pate, Randall Phillips, Alice Robbins, Russell Sugg, Gary Vonnannon, Pam Wase, David Woronoff and Greg Zywockinski.

About the North Carolina Community Foundation

The NCCF is the single statewide community foundation serving North Carolina and has made $116 million in grants since its inception in 1988. With more than $222 million in assets, NCCF sustains 1,200 endowments established to provide long-term support of a broad range of community needs, nonprofit organizations, institutions and scholarships. The NCCF partners with a network of affiliate foundations to provide local resource allocation and community assistance across the state. An important component of NCCF's mission is to ensure that rural philanthropy has a voice at local, regional and national levels.
