About the Moore County Community Foundation

The Moore County Community Foundation is a growing family of philanthropic funds, resource for area nonprofits, source of grants for worthy local causes and partner for donors. MCCF is led by a local volunteer advisory board that helps build community assets through the creation of permanent endowments, makes grants and leverages leadership – all for the benefit of Moore County. Whatever your means or charitable goals, the MCCF makes it easy to become a philanthropist. MCCF was founded in 1991 and is an affiliate foundation of the North Carolina Community Foundation. In addition to Sugg, board members include: Peggy Richardson Sarvis (vice president), Claudia Miller (secretary), Ellen Airs (grant chair), Betsy Best, Hugh Bingham, Kea Capel, Blanchie Carter, Brantley Clifton, Marilyn Morgan Grube, Olujide Lawal, Kelly McCrann, Randall Phillips, Lori Portfleet, Anthony Price, Alice Robbins, Gary Voncannon, Pam Wase, David Woronoff and Greg Zywockinski.

Tax-deductible contributions, made payable to the Moore County Community Foundation, can be mailed to the North Carolina Community Foundation, 3737 Glenwood Ave. Suite 460, Raleigh, NC 27612. Contributions can also be made online at nccommunityfoundation.org.

About the North Carolina Community Foundation

The NCCF is the single statewide community foundation serving North Carolina and has administered more than $130 million in grants since its inception in 1988. With nearly $247 million in assets, NCCF sustains 1,200 endowments established to provide long-term support of a broad range of community needs, nonprofit organizations, institutions and scholarships. The NCCF partners with a network of affiliate foundations to provide local resource allocation and community assistance across the state. An important component of NCCF's mission is to ensure that rural philanthropy has a voice at local, regional and national levels.
