Community Foundation for Randolph County accepting grant applications

For immediate release – 4/3/18

The board of advisors of the Community Foundation for Randolph County is currently accepting grant applications for programs funded from its community grantmaking fund, according to James Gouty, board president.

Funds are available for nonprofit organizations that serve general charitable needs in Randolph County. Applications are available online beginning April 6. Visit nccommunityfoundation.org/randolph for information about applying. The deadline for submitting applications is noon May 8.

About the Community Foundation for Randolph County

The Community Foundation for Randolph County was founded in 1991 and is a local affiliate foundation of the North Carolina Community Foundation. CFRC is led by a local volunteer advisory board that helps build community assets through the creation of permanent endowments, makes grants and leverages leadership – all for the benefit of Randolph County. In addition to Gouty, board members include: Becky Greer (vice president), Lisa Hayworth (secretary), Kevin Franklin, Ray Hudson, Pam Hughes, Justin Kivett, Linda Schumacher and Darwin Smith.

Tax-deductible contributions, made payable to the Community Foundation for Randolph County, can be mailed to the North Carolina Community Foundation, 3737 Glenwood Ave. Suite 460, Raleigh, NC 27612. Contributions can also be made online at nccommunityfoundation.org.

About the North Carolina Community Foundation

The NCCF is the single statewide community foundation serving North Carolina and has administered more than $130 million in grants since its inception in 1988. With nearly $247 million in assets, NCCF sustains 1,200 endowments established to provide long-term support of a broad range of community needs, nonprofit organizations, institutions and scholarships. The NCCF partners with a network of affiliate foundations to provide local resource allocation and community assistance across the state. An important component of NCCF's mission is to ensure that rural philanthropy has a voice at local, regional and national levels.
