Frances Finch Hobart Award for Voluntary Community Service

The Johnston County Community Foundation is pleased to announce the 2011 selections process for the Frances Finch Hobart Award for Voluntary Community Service. This award was established in 2006 to honor Frances Finch Hobart for her commitment to volunteer community service.

The award is presented to an individual from Johnston County who has demonstrated a commitment to voluntary community service to his/her community resulting in a stronger community in which people can live, work and enjoy life.

The recipient of this award shall possess the ability to help others solve social problems by giving of his/her time, talent and energy. This person shall demonstrate an actual accomplishment achieved through the work of volunteering, that through his/her volunteering a community need was met. The person shall manifest the ability to mobilize other volunteers and display a willingness for on-going involvement. Reflective of Frances Finch Hobart, the recipient shall demonstrate vision, vitality, determination, selflessness, generosity, and a full, caring heart.

This year's recipient will be publicly recognized during the 2011 Johnston County Community Foundation Awards event this fall and will be asked to select a local non-profit to receive a $750.00 grant from the Frances Finch Hobart Award for Voluntary Community Service Fund.
