Neighbors joins NC Community Foundation as regional associate

Dawn Neighbors has joined the North Carolina Community Foundation as a regional associate for the Sandhills region, according to Sally Migliore, NCCF director of community leadership. Affiliate foundations in the region include Harnett, Hoke, Lee, Montgomery, Moore, Randolph and Rockingham counties. NCCF serves eight regions across the state.

Neighbors' responsibilities include donor engagement and facilitating the philanthropic work of affiliate foundation boards and their community grantmaking. She also serves as the staff liaison with Moore Women – A Giving Circle.

Neighbors comes to NCCF with extensive experience in development, fundraising, donor engagement and grants from her work in corporate and foundation relations with Campbell University. She earned a bachelor's degree in political science from Campbell University.

"We are delighted to have someone with Dawn's development and grants experience join the NCCF team," said Migliore.

Mary Anne Howard, who previously served NCCF as Sandhills regional associate, remains with the Foundation as philanthropy specialist in the Development Department.

About the North Carolina Community Foundation

The NCCF is the single statewide community foundation serving North Carolina and has made $101 million in grants since its inception in 1988. With more than $237 million in assets, NCCF sustains 1,200 endowments established to provide long-term support of a broad range of community needs, nonprofit organizations, institutions and scholarships. The NCCF partners with 60 affiliate foundations to provide local resource allocation and community assistance in 67 counties across the state. An important component of NCCF's mission is to ensure that rural philanthropy has a voice at local, regional and national levels.
