Align Global Consulting Has Been Named a CPAmerica International Preferred Consultant

August 15, 2011

Raleigh, North Carolina – Align Global Consulting has extended its reach and its ability to serve clients nationwide by being named a CPAmerica International preferred consultant.

CPAmerica International is an exclusive association of more than 80 large, independent CPA firms that provides practice management support, continuing education, marketing, online services and other programs for the improvement of its member firms. Member firms share industry-specific knowledge, best practices, continuing professional education programs and practice management techniques.

CPAmerica's strategic alliance with Crowe Horwath International includes more than 550 offices worldwide, and combined firm revenues of the alliance approach $3 billion. CPAmerica membership includes more than 2,500 CPAs, operating from more than 200 offices throughout the United States.

Preferred consultant applicants must undergo a rigorous quality review. Only those with the highest standards, products and services are approved. "Being named a CPAmerica International preferred consultant is not only a great milestone but is also a tremendous honor for our firm," said Sean King, president and founder of Align. "The CPAmerica/Horwath alliance is clearly the most preeminent among American-based associations and is among the very best internationally," said King.

As a CPAmerica preferred consultant, Align will have the opportunity to work directly with firms within the association.

"Our relationship with CPAmerica International gives us the contacts and resources necessary to provide our clients with the services they need to grow in the ever-changing global marketplace," said King.
