Community grants available from the Northern Albemarle Community Foundation and Women Givers of Northeast North Carolina

The board of advisors of the Northern Albemarle Community Foundation and the members of the Women Givers of Northeast North Carolina are currently accepting grant applications from area nonprofits that serve needs in the local community.

Funds from the Northern Albemarle Community Foundation are available for nonprofit organizations that serve general community needs in Camden, Gates, Pasquotank and Perquimans counties. Grants will be awarded from the community grantmaking fund and the Judge Thomas Watts Fund.

Funds from the Women Givers of Northeast NC are available for nonprofit organizations that support the needs of and for women and children in Pasquotank, Perquimans, Camden and Gates counties.

Applications are available online beginning March 8. Visit nccommunityfoundation.org for information about applying. The deadline for applications is noon April 9.

“This is a great opportunity for local nonprofits to expand their impact in our community,” said James Watson, NACF board president.

“We are excited to partner with nonprofit leaders to create lasting change in the community,” said Ann Hoffman and Robin Zinsmeister, WGNNC co-chairs.

About the Women Givers of Northeast North Carolina

A program of the North Carolina Community Foundation, the Women Givers of Northeast NC is a giving circle that leverages the power of collective giving through a local network that supports the community in a purposeful way. The Women Givers supports charitable organizations serving women, children and families in Camden, Gates, Pasquotank and Perquimans counties. The Women Givers is designed to maximize women’s leadership in philanthropy by engaging and educating its membership and increasing charitable contributions.

About the Northern Albemarle Community Foundation

An affiliate of the North Carolina Community Foundation, the Northern Albemarle Community Foundation is a growing family of philanthropic funds, source of grants for local causes and partners for donors. The NACF was founded in 2001 and is led by a local volunteer advisory board that helps build community assets through the creation of permanent endowments, makes grants and leverages leadership—all for the benefit of Camden, Gates, Pasquotank and Perquimans counties.

The NACF board advises the Northern Albemarle Community Fund, the unrestricted community grantmaking fund, to support local needs. This competitive grants program is held annually. Advisory board members live and work in Camden, Gates, Pasquotank and Perquimans counties, putting them in a position to strategically leverage resources, meet local needs and access opportunities. In addition to Watson, board members include: Brenda Lassiter (secretary-treasurer), Dan Askew, Grafton Beaman, Brian Beasley, Phyllis Bosomworth, Angela Cole, Rebecca Elliott, David Pureza, Rodney Walton and Matt Wood.

The NACF, through the NCCF, makes it easy to become a philanthropist, whatever your means or charitable goals. You can open an endowment for your favorite cause at any time – or contribute to an existing fund in any amount. Tax-deductible contributions, made payable to the Northern Albemarle Community Foundation, can be mailed to the North Carolina Community Foundation, 3737 Glenwood Ave. Suite 460, Raleigh, NC 27612. Contributions can also be made online at nccommunityfoundation.org.

About the North Carolina Community Foundation

The NCCF is the single statewide community foundation serving North Carolina and has administered more than $145 million in grants since its inception in 1988. With more than $270 million in assets, NCCF sustains 1,300 endowments established to provide long-term support of a broad range of community needs, nonprofit organizations, institutions and scholarships. The NCCF partners with a network of affiliate foundations to provide local resource allocation and community assistance across the state. An important component of NCCF’s mission is to ensure that rural philanthropy has a voice at local, regional and national levels. For more information, visit nccommunityfoundation.org.
