

FY21 WAKE TRANSIT WORK PLAN – SOCIAL MEDIA POSTS

PLEASE NOTE. Because the COVID-19 pandemic has affected tax revenues, some Wake Transit investments planned for FY2021 will hold. View a list of investments recommended to move forward July 1 at goforwardnc.org/waketransit

The COVID-19 stay-at-home orders have affected tax revenues, so the Wake Transit Work Plan for FY2021 is advancing cautiously and some investments will hold. Strict criteria including a project's time sensitivity, transit riders' most pressing needs and public comments received in January were used to decide what to move forward July 1. View those projects at goforwardnc.org/waketransit

A new recommended FY21 Wake Transit Work Plan is available for review. Because the COVID-19 pandemic has affected tax revenues, some planned investments will hold. Projects moving forward include more service on GoRaleigh Route 21 and the next phase of the New Bern Avenue bus rapid transit project. Details at goforwardnc.org/waketransit
