Cary Greenways 40th Anniversary

40 Years OF CARY GREENWAYS

Every day all across Cary, cyclists, walkers, runners, rollerbladers and skateboarders, dogwalkers and strollers traverse more than 80 miles of greenways that connect the places where they live to schools, shops, parks, and even destinations beyond our city. Winding through beautiful neighborhoods under shady tree cover, up challenging hills and around scenic curves, across boardwalks over lakes, in and out of what is now a bustling community, this vast network of paved trails has been connecting the people and places of Cary for 40 years. And we think this is cause for celebration! Let's take a look back at how this Gold Medal Award-winning system began.

A BRIEF History

In the mid 1970s, an engaged citizen, Ms. Linda Setliff, reached out to Town Council about the Cary High School track team. She was concerned about their safety as they ran along Kildaire Farm Road, then a 2-lane country road with no shoulders. She believed they deserved a safer place to run, and brought her concerns to the Town. Little did Ms. Setliff know at the time but her request was the seed that blossomed into the extensive greenway system that thousands of runners now enjoy. In 1976, Cary Town Council created a citizen committee — the Greenway Commission — with

OFFICIAL 40TH ANNIVERSARY ARTWORK

In honor of the 40th anniversary of Cary's greenways, the Town has commissioned two paintings by Autumn Cabot. These paintings will become part of the Town's permanent collection and prints will be available for purchase at the June 1 celebration at Bond Park.

Look for these artworks at places hanging along the greenways this year. If you see one, take it home for you!
