"I have worked 15 years in food production, and 10 of those years have been in Catawba County. I have come to realize that this area is a very competitive area for food production. The cost of doing business and the skilled labor force in this community help keep us competitive.

Catawba County is also located in an area with great transportation networks, via I-40, I-77 and I-85 and the Norfolk Southern mainline. We can transport our products to customers along the East Coast in less than 1 days drive. This access to customers also helps to keep our costs low."

Ted Karre, formerly with Tyson Foods & Renwood Mills

"With twenty plus years of both production and maintenance experience as an engineer and manager in manufacturing, I have dealt with many of the emergent issues and opportunities today's production or maintenance manager faces. For Flowers Foods, we were able to accelerate their onboarding process providing assistance with recruitment, assessment, new employee orientation, and HR/safety training. As specialized needs arose for GMP and HACCP training, we connected them with industry experts such as the American Institute of Baking to ensure compliance with FDA guidelines. We understand the pressures and the sense of urgency and work with new and existing industries to assist them with these challenges."
