"I moved here in 1996 and had the pleasure to work through numerous expansion projects with the Catawba EDC, establishing the GKN Maiden facility as a world leader in modern automotive all wheel drive systems. We have enjoyed a great operating environment and a great quality of life. I have found the City, the County, and the State of North Carolina to provide a pro-business environment with a low cost of doing business. We have partnered with the Community College for training in manufacturing technology and a German-style apprenticeship program. Of course, access to the nearby Charlotte International Airport also allows us five daily connections to Frankfurt and Europe."

Our experience has found that Catawba County is pro business, with a manufacturing workforce competent to support GD SATCOM's composite and metal fabrication processes. County infrastructure and utilities are readily available, cost effective and reliable. Furthermore, easy access to the ports in Charleston and Savannah support ease of export, which makes up a large share of our business. Catawba County's quality of life and close proximity to the Charlotte Metro are also a plus when recruiting technical talent, or touring International clients and customers."
