

About IFC

In 1963, a group of seven local women united their volunteer efforts to address the conditions of poverty in Chapel Hill and Carrboro. More than five decades later, Inter-Faith Council continues its mission to confront the causes and respond to the effects of poverty in our community.

Permanent Supportive Housing is a best practice that ends homelessness for Orange County's most vulnerable citizens by helping them get and keep housing, access resources, and navigate landlord/neighbor relationships. Case managers facilitate rental assistance for up to 22 residents in scattered-site, privately owned units and encourage residents to identify social supports and integrate into community life.

COMMUNITY BUILDING AND ADVOCACY

Annual Budget: $150,000

IFC creates hospitable common space to gather and build a natural support network, providing everyone with opportunity to recognize our shared humanity and participate in community as givers and receivers.

Volunteer Opportunities

IFC depends on volunteers at all of our sites with a wide variety of availability, interests, and skills. Visit www.ifcweb.org/volunteer to learn about IFC's current needs.

Everybody has Something to Give

Dear friends and advocates,

Big change is coming!

IFC has reached a pivotal time – or perhaps I should say another pivotal time - in its 56-year history. If progress on the FoodFirst capital campaign continues as we hope, IFC at Main Street in Carrboro will look and smell and feel a lot different – better! – in a little more than a year. Like everything IFC, FoodFirst has been a community-driven project, taking extra time, plus the energy and effort of hundreds of you for almost a decade.

Although the process has at times been complicated, the goal of this special project is simple: To enable all of us – the network of nearly 7,000 people who are IFC – to continue to live out our shared mission well into the future. Together, we confront the causes and respond to the effects of poverty in our community.

Everybody has something to give

As you well know, we humans all have the same basic needs. Healthy food. Dignified and affordable housing. The opportunity to participate in community by giving of who we are and what we have. Everybody has something to give, and you'll see inspiring examples throughout this newsletter.

I believe that IFC has staying power because you recognize each other's dignity, honor each other's contributions, and continue to offer your own unique gifts:

- Lessons learned and Expertise shared. People who experience hunger, homelessness or racism can lead us toward effectively addressing these systemic issues.
- Time and Goodwill. More than 750 of you every year dedicate your time as volunteers.

- Skills that fix and fix up our buildings, which provide safe, nightly shelter for 76 households.
- Hospitality through food. You put extra groceries in your cart, you cook casseroles and flip pancakes, you make space at the table to sit and eat with one another.
- Your voices build a stronger community both at public meetings and in the voting booth.
- You believe in the common good and are able and willing to commit financial resources to caring for each other well.

Stretching and sharing resources to meet basic needs

Every day, our small staff supported by many, many volunteers transforms your varied and valued gifts into healthy after-school snacks and dinner on a family's table, a roof over people's heads, and welcoming public spaces for people to catch up with each other and get updates on community events.

In these next months, as we hopefully see our capital campaign through and start construction, IFC will need everyone to stretch further. Moving and maintaining daily operations through a major and year-long transition will be extra challenging.

Given IFC's scrappy, grassroots history, I have confidence that you will come through for each other as you always do. Together, we can be there for our neighbors, co-workers, and friends who find themselves in crisis and need the support network. Together, we are IFC.

I remain honored to do this work with you,

Jackie

Together, we are IFC.

Members,
residents,
staff, donors,
community partners and volunteers.

We all have something to give.

2018 Annual Fund Donors

We have made every effort to ensure that this list, which includes annual fund donors, is as accurate and complete as possible. Please accept our sincere apologies should you discover any mistakes.

Chapel Hill Town Council approved funding in February for a Master Leasing Pilot Program, and IFC shelter residents and board members were among key leaders to present and advocate for this affordable housing strategy. As a result five households experiencing homelessness will have permanent affordable housing by the end of the spring.

It is a true community-wide project. Justice United worked for months organizing support. Grubb Properties, which is the company re-developing Glen Lennox, committed housing units, and IFC will provide case management for residents.

Community Home Trust will administer the program, leasing rental units at existing market rates and then subleasing the units at affordable rates to qualified, pre-screened tenants. Public funding is key to subsidizing the rent and making each unit affordable as a percentage of a household's income.

Your Time and Goodwill

"I just came to America from China. When I prepared and served food to the people who come to Community Kitchen, I can relate to them because my family is poor. I like to volunteer there, not only for graduating from school, but also meeting many kind people. Everybody was so nice to me. I felt very happy to serve them. In addition, I got to practice my English. This was an important experience in my life."

Current Food Pantry

FoodFirst in 2020

FoodFirst Update: The Food Pantry is Moving!

It's time to take a leap of faith and move out of 110 W. Main Street so we can demolish our downtown Carrboro building and make way for the new!

During construction, the Food Pantry, Emergency Financial Assistance, and administrative offices will be located in Chapel Hill's Historic Town Hall at 100 W. Rosemary Street. IFC's Community Kitchen has served meals there for the past 30+ years.

We are grateful to Mayor Pam Hemminger, Town Manager Maurice Jones and his staff, and the Town Council for their quick planning work and continued partnership in making this temporary re-location possible.

You might be wondering:

Have you met your FoodFirst Campaign goal?

Not yet! We still have to close the final gap and welcome your donations. You can see the current list of more than 440 donors and join them by giving online: www.ifcweb.org/foodfirst.

Are you temporarily closing during the move?

The Food Pantry, Emergency Financial Assistance and offices will close March 25-29 to pack and move. We will all re-open on April 1 at 100 W. Rosemary Street in Chapel Hill.

Historic Town Hall

Where should we bring food donations?

Through March 26, please continue to bring food to 110 W. Main Street, Carrboro. We are not able to accept donations on March 27. Starting March 28, please bring donations to 100 W. Rosemary Street, Chapel Hill.

How long will you be on Rosemary Street?

Construction should take about one year. When the new building is done, IFC will move all offices and programs out of Historic Town Hall and back to 110 W. Main Street, Carrboro.

How can I stay up-to-date?

This is a big change for a members, volunteers, and staff! Thank you in advance for your flexibility and patience. Register for our enews at www.ifcweb.org to keep updated.
